

Look & Listen

Hello Friends!

We hope you're having an satisfying and safe week and enjoying the nourishing rains. Here are some more artful events in Rappahannock to take the edge off your summer days and feed your souls.

LOOK

Covid Postcards — short videos of Rappahannock residents sharing how they won't let the pandemic get the best of them. This Rappahannock-based project is ongoing and created by Emmy Award-winning documentary maker Scott Willis and creative writer and wife, Mary-Sherman Willis. They're documenting how our friends and neighbors are coping with the relentless coronavirus. Here's a RappNews link to the video postcards along with an article about the project.

Gay Street Gallery — meet Martin Woodard at the Gallery on Saturday, August 15, 3:00-5:00pm. Please bring your mask as you meet & greet from six feet. You can also see Martin's artwork in the 3D virtual exhibit along with work by Patricia Brennan and Kevin H. Adams.

Virtual Art Exhibits and Meet-the-Artist events — now archived for your viewing and listening pleasure. If you missed one of the May, June or July shows, visit the exhibitions and artist interviews by clicking Virtual Exhibits.

LISTEN

Rappahannock Radio — Our own Kiaya Abernathy has launched an online radio station. Using a grant from RAAC's Mitchell Arts Fund, Kiaya has created a series of local interviews to highlight who we are as individuals and as a community. Listen in to a lively conversation with Kiaya and Lilla Fletcher Leto, Bill Fletcher's daughter of Bill Fletcher. Click HERE to join the interview.

Sunday Virtual House Concert, Because We Have Music, continues this Sunday at 7pm (August 9) — Featured are multiple Grammy winner Jon Carroll of Starland Vocal Band; saxophonist Marshall Keys who's played with legendary jazz musicians; and host Paul Reisler & Cheryl Toth of Kid Pan Alley.

The concert is free. Here's the link to register for limited seating in the virtual living room via Zoom or to stream anytime: Virtual House Concert. RAAC primes the tip jar for Rappahannock guest musicians; please join us by pitching in!

Castleton Festival — Internationally acclaimed pianist Jonathan Ferrucci in a video concert. Jonathan's debut performance at Castleton had been scheduled for May 24 this year. But now you can listen to his beautifully rendered program performed in a London church. Click here to look and listen.

If you know about a local arts event for an upcoming Look and Listen, please email us at newsletter@raac.org.
