

Look & Listen

Hello Friends! Here're some more great Rappahannock-based ideas to consider for next week.

LOOK & LISTEN

November Election Challenges — Monday Evening Talk, August 10 at 6:00pm. Listen to Rappahannock neighbor, Paul Smith, share his legal insights into obstacles facing the November election because of Covid-19. Paul is Vice President, Litigation and Strategy, at the Campaign Legal Center, and has argued important voting rights cases at the Supreme Court. Paul is also a popular RAAC presenter: he took us behind the scenes to some of his past Supreme Court arguments at a recent library talk, and he spoke about gerrymandering at a film-talkback event. Register here to RSVP for Monday's virtual event and receive a link to view his upcoming talk.

Lorraine Duisit's Video Single — Wild Bird in a Purple Plum — just posted on YouTube. Lorraine's video single is from her soon-to-be released album entitled "In My Heart I Am Dancing." The video is a rich pairing of Lorraine's original song with a visual walk through the portrait painting of Lorraine by one of Rappahannock's finest artists, the deceased Robin Purnell. Lorraine received a Mitchell Arts Fund grant from RAAC to produce the album which included a team of local talent including Smiggy Smith, Evan Espinola, Linda Heimstra, Forrest Marquisee, Anthony DelGrosso. Click here to look and listen.

Help the Food Pantry Help our Children!

Rappahannock Food Pantry needs backpacks & back-to-school supplies for children of its clients. This year RAAC has contributed all the needed art supplies on the schools' list. But much more is needed -- for details contact Mimi or Laura at 987-5090. Add your box of supplies to the pile!

Our mailing address is:

PO Box 24

Washington VA 22747