

Look & Listen

Hello Friends!

Here're some more artful events in Rappahannock to add some sparkle to your summer days.

LOOK

Live "Meet-the-Artists" event tonight, August 21st, at 7:00 pm.

What motivates and inspires artists? How do they approach their work? What are they trying to achieve? Look and listen to interviews with six artists featured in the August Virtual Art Exhibition that opens today: Mary Allen, Peter Kramer, Pam Pittinger, River District Potters, Michael Sage, Martin Woodard. You can also visit the gallery by clicking: virtual exhibit.

- Or, join the Zoom event directly by clicking here just before 7pm.

Covid Postcards — see NEW short videos of Rappahannock residents sharing how they won't let the pandemic get the best of them. This Rappahannock-based project is ongoing and created by Emmy Award-winning documentary maker Scott Willis and creative writer and wife, Mary-Sherman Willis. They're documenting how our friends and neighbors are coping with the relentless coronavirus. Here's a link to all of the video postcards courtesy of the RappNews.

LISTEN

Sunday Virtual House Concert continues this Sunday at 7pm (August 23) — Because We Have Music — will feature masters of musical improvisation—the Arthur Lee Land Trio, Plunky Branch, and host Paul Reisler & Cheryl Toth of Kid Pan Alley. Arthur Lee Land is a vibrant performer, songwriter, recording artist, bandleader, live-looper, producer and educator. Richmond based saxophonist J. Plunky Branch, is a performer, songwriter, music/film producer and activist.

The concert is free. Here's the link to register for limited seating in the virtual living room via Zoom or to stream anytime: Virtual House Concert. RAAC primes the tip jar for Rappahannock guest musicians; please join us by pitching in!

Rappahannock Radio — Our own Kiaya Abernathy launched an online radio station and, funded by a RAAC Mitchell Arts Fund grant, has created a series of local interviews to highlight who we are as individuals and as a community. Listen in to a lively conversation with Kiaya and the Loathsome Wind. Click HERE to join the interview.
