

Look & Listen

Hello Friends!

Here are some artful Rappahannock events to enjoy this weekend.

LOOK

DARK MONEY Film-Talkback Event—Friday, Oct 2 at 7pm.

There are some tickets available for this space-limited outdoor event that can be reserved by going to: Eventbrite. Our after-film discussant is Trevor Potter, former FEC chair and president of the Campaign Legal Center. Sit under the stars, engage in fascinating and important issues, and enjoy the socially-distanced company of neighbors. Masks are required. Details about the event and location are provided in your Eventbrite confirmation.

Cottage Curator featuring an online Form + Function exhibition. Enjoy the work of contemporary artists who paint surfaces, forge steel, carve and steam-bend wood. The finished pieces are both stunning and functional, and they eloquently balance line, shape, texture and visual rhythm. Enjoy the exhibit HERE.

Middle Street Gallery is looking for new artist-members to join the artist-owned cooperative. Since its founding in 1982, the Gallery has embraced all aspects of fine arts. If interested in becoming an artist-member, click Gallery. Black & white graphics by Wayne Paige, Not Out of the Woods, are now on exhibit at the Gallery until Oct 4 (open 12-5pm on weekends).

LISTEN

Sunday Virtual House Concert continues this Sunday at 4pm (Oct 4) — Because We Have Music — features a special concert for kids on Sunday, October 4th at 4pm (EDT) featuring some of the most beloved kids artists in the country—Bill Harley, Randy Kaplan, Silly Bus, and Kid Pan Alley's Paul Reisler and Cheryl Toth. Harley is considered one of the country's best storytellers, well known for his work with children. Kaplan is one of the nation's top family entertainers and his songs for children blend American roots, pop, punk, jazz, and hip-hop. Silly Bus inspires children of all ages to listen, laugh and learn while performing selections from their Mom's Choice Award originals.

The concert is free. Here's the link to register for limited seating in the virtual living room via Zoom or to stream anytime: Virtual House Concert. RAAC primes the tip jar for Rappahannock guest musicians; please join us by pitching in!

Law in Opera with Justices Ginsburg and Scalia — Castleton Festival is streaming its World Premiere at the 2015 Castleton Festival. In this comic opera, Justices Ruth Bader Ginsburg and Antonin Scalia must pass through three cosmic trials to secure their freedom. The catch: they may have to agree on the Constitution. Ginsburg said, "If I could choose the talent I would most like to have, it would be a glorious voice." You are invited to a free online performance.
