

Look & Listen

Hello Friends!

Tomorrow is a federal holiday in honor of the life and work of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. In past years, Scrabble School Preservation Foundation celebrated his life with a wonderful community event at the historic Theater at Little Washington. Because of Covid, this year's event was recorded at the Theatre and is now available for all of us to see and hear online -- TONIGHT!

Below are the details from the Scrabble School Preservation Foundation for this free, virtual event.

When: Today! Sunday Jan 17, 6:00-8:00 PM

Where: Online streaming at culpepermedia.org

Theme: "The Fierce Urgency of Now"

Features: 2021 Mini-musical Production of "Songs that Moved the Masses (Revisited)"

Concept/Writer/Director/Producer: Nan Butler Roberts

Cast Members: Marie Davis, James Daniels, Bobby G. Glasker, Nancy Peacock, C. Alexander Smith, Charlene Smith-Holland, and Nan Butler Roberts.

Musicians: Recording Artist, Mo Safren. Rudie Ferguson, Drums

Boddie Scholarship—awarded to a student in need—honors an educator who inspired and encouraged students in Rappahannock.

Viewers can donate to the "Scholarship" and/or the "The Artists" during or after the online broadcast. Two ways to give your tax-deductible gift:

- Online, click "donate" on the Scrabble School homepage.
- By check, mail to: SSPF, P.O. Box 356, Sperryville, VA 22740 - Write in notes line: "For Scholarship" or "For The Artists," or "Split donation"

RAAC

Rappahannock Association
for Arts and Community

Our mailing address is:

PO Box 24

Washington VA 22747